GLOSSARY OF TERMS

(Sources: the FAMIS and Medicaid Handbooks, the Medallion 4.0 contract, Healthcare.gov, and the Department of Medical Assistance Services website)

Authorized Representative – A person who is authorized in writing to conduct the personal or financial affairs for an individual.

Cardinal Care – A single system of care for all Medicaid/FAMIS members. It connects members to the care that they need when they need it and reduces transitions between programs as their health care needs evolve. All managed care and fee-for-service Medicaid members are part of the program.

Cardinal Care Smiles – Virginia’s dental program for children up to age 21, pregnant individuals, and adults enrolled in Medicaid and the FAMIS programs. It is administered by DentaQuest. It was formerly called Smiles For Children.

Caseworker – Eligibility Worker at the local department of social services who processes the application to determine Medicaid eligibility and maintains the ongoing case. This is the person to contact regarding changes, such as address or income, or problems, such as not receiving the Medicaid card.

Certified Application Counselor – Volunteer trained by the government and authorized by an applicant to assist with state-sponsored health insurance and Health Insurance Marketplace applications.

CHIP – The state Children’s Health Insurance Program was created by Congress as part of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997. States were given broad discretion to design CHIP programs to provide health insurance coverage for uninsured children in low to moderate-income families with incomes above the Medicaid/FAMIS Plus limit. Enacted as Title XXI of the Social Security Act, CHIP is also a partnership between the federal and state government, but a higher proportion of the cost is paid by federal tax dollars. CHIP in Virginia pays for FAMIS, FAMIS MOMS, and FAMIS Prenatal Coverage.

Coinsurance – The portion of Medicare, Medicaid, or other insurance, allowed charges for which the patient is responsible.

CommonHelp – CommonHelp at www.commonhelp.virginia.gov is the website where individuals and families can apply for Medicaid, FAMIS and social services benefits. It is provided through the Virginia Department of Social Services.

Cost Sharing Reduction/Subsidy (CSR) – A discount that lowers the amount a person has to pay for deductibles, copayments, and coinsurance. In the Health Insurance Marketplace, cost-sharing reductions are often called “extra savings.” If a person qualifies, he/she must enroll in the “Silver” category of plan on the Marketplace to get the extra savings. This person would also have a lower out-of-pocket maximum, the total amount he/she'd have to pay for covered medical services per year. When the person reaches the out-of-pocket maximum, the insurance plan then covers 100% of all covered services.

Cover Virginia – Virginia's statewide customer service center providing information and assistance for FAMIS, Medicaid, Plan First and other insurance options. The Cover Virginia statewide customer service center at (855) 242-8282 is staffed by knowledgeable and courteous representatives who can provide confidential application assistance and program information. You can apply, report changes, receive application status updates, or renew your coverage by calling Cover Virginia.

Coverva.dmas.virginia.gov – The Cover Virginia website providing information about FAMIS, Medicaid, Plan First and other state and federal health insurance options. It includes an eligibility screening tool and easy access to all the ways to apply for coverage as well as links to other health resources and assistance. Through the website you can order printed materials including program brochures, posters, and applications.

DMAS (Virginia Department of Medical Assistance Services) – The agency that administers the FAMIS and Medicaid programs in Virginia.

DSS (Virginia Department of Social Services) – The agency responsible for determining eligibility for medical assistance and the provision of related social services. This includes the local Departments of Social Services.

Eligibility Worker – The worker at the local Department of Social Services who reviews FAMIS or Medicaid cases to determine if applicants are eligible. This is the person an enrollee would contact regarding changes, such as address or income, or problems, such as not receiving a Cardinal Care ID card.

EPSDT – The Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT) program is a program of preventive health care and well child examinations with tests and immunizations for children and teens from birth up to age 21. Medically necessary services needed to correct or improve defects and physical or mental illnesses (discovered during a screening examination) may be covered as a part of the EPSDT program even if they are not covered under the State's Medicaid benefit plan.

FAMIS – Family Access to Medical Insurance Security (FAMIS, pronounced like "famous") is Virginia's Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP). It is a comprehensive health insurance program for uninsured children from birth through age 18 with income between 149% and 205% of the federal poverty level. FAMIS is administered by DMAS and is funded by the state and federal government. FAMIS has higher income limits than Medicaid and began in 1998.

FAMIS MOMS – Is a health insurance program for pregnant women with income eligibility the same as FAMIS and began in 2005. It covers

Children enrolled in FAMIS Select do not have access to direct FAMIS coverage except if needed to cover childhood immunizations.

Fee-for-Service – A method in which doctors and other health care providers are paid for each service performed. In Medicaid Fee-for-Service, the Medicaid provider charges a fee for each service and receives payment directly from DMAS for each service. of care, encourage preventive care, and produce better medical outcomes. Most Virginia FAMIS and Medicaid members are required to receive their medical care through managed care programs.

Managed Care Organization (MCO) – is a health plan contracted to provide medical services and coordinate health care services through a network of providers. They contract with DMAS to provide, arrange for, deliver, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services for FAMIS and Medicaid enrollees.

Medically Necessary – Reasonable and necessary services for the diagnosis or treatment of an illness or injury or to improve physical functioning.

Medically Needy – Individuals who meet Medicaid covered group requirements, but have excess income. A medically needy determination requires a resource test and includes pregnant individuals, children under the age of 18, foster care and adoption assistance, and those in ICF/IIDs up to age 21, ABD up to age 21. Parents and caretaker relatives do not qualify under medically needy. Medically needy individuals are excluded from managed care enrollment.

Navigators are positions funded by the VIM.

Open Enrollment (Marketplace) – The time frame in which people can shop for private health insurance on the Virginia Insurance Marketplace. The dates are usually November 1 to January 15 annually.

Open Enrollment (Medicaid Managed Care) – The time frame in which Medicaid/FAMIS Plus members are allowed to change from one MCO to another, without cause, at least once every 12 months. Open enrollment depends upon the region where the person lives in Virginia and is done regionally. Within sixty (60) days prior to the region's open enrollment effective date, DMAS will inform the member of the opportunity to remain with the current health plan or change to another health plan without cause. Those members who do not choose a new MCO within sixty (60) days of the open enrollment period shall remain in his or her current health plan selection until their next open enrollment effective date. More information on MCO open enrollment can be found here: <https://viriniamanagedcare.com/en/open-enrollment>.

Out-of-Network Coverage – This is coverage provided outside of the established MCO network; medical care rendered to a member by a provider not affiliated with the MCO or contracted with the MCO.

Patient Pay – Individuals with income may have to contribute to the cost of their long-term care services.

Plan First – The Medicaid fee-for-service family planning program. The purpose of this program is to reduce unplanned pregnancies, increase spacing between births, reduce infant mortality rates, and reduce the rates of abortions due to unintended pregnancies. Men and women not eligible for full benefit Medicaid or FAMIS/FAMIS MOMS, who have incomes between 139% and 205% of the federal poverty level and meet citizenship and identity requirements may be eligible for Plan First. In December 2024, Plan First became an "Opt-In" program. The state will now only screen applicants who indicate on the Application that they want to be evaluated for the program.

Premium – The monthly amount paid for a health insurance policy.

Premium Tax Credits – A tax credit people use to lower their monthly insurance payment (called your "premium") when they enroll in a plan through the Health Insurance Marketplace. The tax credit is based on the income estimate and household information people report on their Marketplace applications. If the person's estimated income falls between 138% and 400% of the federal poverty level for his/her household size, s/he qualifies for a premium tax credit. A person can use all, some, or none of the premium tax credit in advance to lower his/her monthly premium. If s/he uses more advance payments of the tax credit than he/she qualifies for based on the final yearly income, the individual must repay the difference when filing federal income taxes. If the individual uses less premium tax credit than s/he qualifies for, a refundable credit is issued when taxes are filed.

Primary Care Provider (PCP) – The doctor or clinic that provides most personal health care needs, gives the recipient referrals to other health care providers when needed, and monitors FAMIS/Medicaid member health. A PCP may be an internist, a pediatrician (children’s doctor), OB/GYN (women’s doctor), family doctor, or certain clinics and health departments.

Resources (Assets) – Resources include money on hand, in the bank, and in a safe deposit box; stocks, bonds, certificates of deposit, trusts, pre-paid burial plans; cars, boats, life insurance policies, and real property.

Special Enrollment Period (SEP) – A time outside the yearly Open Enrollment Period when people can sign up for health insurance on the Marketplace. People qualify for these by having a certain life event, including losing health coverage, moving, getting married, or having or adopting a child. If the person qualifies for a SEP, s/he usually has up to 60 days following the event to enroll in a plan. If the person misses that window, s/he has to wait until the next Open Enrollment Period to apply.

Third-Party Liability – The legal obligation of third parties, i.e., certain individuals, entities, or programs, to pay all or part of the expenditures for medical assistance furnished under the State Plan.

VaCMS (Virginia Case Management System) – This is the integrated eligibility and enrollment computer system housed at the Virginia Department of Social Services and used by the local Departments of Social Services to determine eligibility for Medicaid, FAMIS, and other benefits, and manage the enrolled cases on an ongoing basis.

Virginia Insurance Marketplace (VIM or “Marketplace”) – Online marketplace of private insurance plans. Individuals can shop for health insurance, compare private plans, and determine whether they qualify for tax credits and subsidies to help pay for insurance. Virginia began operating its own state-based exchange in plan year 2024.

Application for a Social Security Number

Applying for a Social Security Card is free. The application for a social security card (Form SS-5) can be downloaded at: <https://www.ssa.gov/forms/ss-5.pdf>.

The easiest way for parents to apply for a number for their newborn is to do it in the hospital at the time of the baby's birth. When the parents give information for the baby's birth certificate, they will be asked whether they want to apply for a Social Security number for their child. They will be asked for both parents' Social Security numbers. Even if they don't have the information handy, they can apply this way.

After that, they could wait and apply for the child's number at the Social Security office. They will need to complete the application for a Social Security card (link above) and show original documents proving the child's US citizenship, age and identity. The parents will also need to show documentation proving their identities and their relationship to the child.

All documents provided must be either originals or copies certified by the issuing agency. Social Security will not accept photocopies or notarized copies of documents.

Note: Anyone who requests an original Social Security number that is age 12 or older will have to appear in person for an interview, even if a parent or guardian will sign the application on the child's behalf.

Case Examples

Case #1: THE MARTINEZ FAMILY

Jose Martinez and his wife Maria have been in the US for four years. They applied for and were granted Legal Permanent Resident status when they arrived in the US. They file taxes jointly and claim their children as dependents. They have 3 children: Juan (10), Rosa (6) and Angel (2). Juan and Rosa were born in Mexico, but are now LPRs and Angel was born in the US.

Jose has a job making about $1,290 per month and is paid monthly, but does not have access to health care. Maria works at a local big box store 29 hours a week and makes $7.75/hour and is paid weekly. Because she is considered part-time by her employer, she does not have access to health insurance.

- 1. What is the household size for each member of the family?

- 2. What is Maria's monthly income?

- 3. What is the income for the family?

- 4. Do the children qualify for the FAMIS programs? If so, which one? What do the parents qualify for?

- 5. What documentation may LDSS/CVCPU request to determine eligibility for this family?

Case #1: THE MARTINEZ FAMILY ANSWERS -

1. The family size is 5 for everyone – Jose, Maria, Juan, Rosa and Angel
2. Maria's monthly income is - $$7.75 \times 29 = \224.75 weekly $\times 4.3 = $966.43$

3. The family income is:

Jose's Gross Monthly Income	$1,290
Maria's Gross Monthly Income	$966.43
Total Monthly Gross Income	$2,256.43

4. Do the children qualify for the FAMIS programs? If so, which one(s)?

Juan, Rosa and Angel qualify for FAMIS Plus because the monthly income requirement (148% FPL) for a family of 5 is up to $4,644 and their parents' income is only $2,256.43.

What do the parents qualify for?

Jose and Maria each have a household of 5 making $2,256/month. LIFC for a household of 5 is between $999 and $1,519 depending upon the locality in which parents live. They are over these limits. Medicaid Expansion for Adults might be an option since a household of 5 can have an income of up to $4,330, but they have not been in this country for 5 years so they do not meet the 5 year residency requirement for that program.

Even though they actually make under 100% FPL ($3,138 for a household of 5), they can still shop for private insurance on Virginia's Insurance Marketplace during annual Open Enrollment. They do qualify for financial assistance with purchasing that coverage.

In a year, they could apply for MedEx and at that time they may finally meet the 5 year residency requirement.

6. What documentation may LDSS/CVCPU request to determine eligibility for this family?

They might need to provide income verification, if their income is not able to be verified electronically or is not reasonably compatible with what is found electronically. Also, if their immigration status information cannot be verified electronically, they may be asked to provide a copy of their green cards or other documentation.

Case #2: THE MASON FAMILY

Jane Mason just started as a bookkeeper at a day care center. She lives with her two children, Anna (5) and Blaine (7). Jane's ex-husband, Carl, claims both children as dependents on his taxes and Jane files taxes as a single-filer.

Jane's salary is $14.50 per hour. She works 40 hours per week and is paid weekly. She receives $500 a month in alimony pursuant to a decree filed in 2015. Her employer offers family health insurance, but she cannot afford the family premiums, so she only has insurance for herself. Her ex-husband makes $45,000 a year but does not get health care through his employer. The two children are uninsured.

- 1. What is the household size for each person in the example?

- 2. What is the income for each person in the example?

- 3. What coverage options or programs are available for each person in the example?

- 4. What difference would it make if the divorce decree had been filed March 15, 2019?

Case # 2: THE MASON FAMILY ANSWERS – Single parent with non-custodial parent claiming children

1. The household size:

Jane – 1 (herself)

Anna – 3 (herself, mom, and sibling)

Blaine – 3 (himself, mom, and sibling)

Carl – 3 (himself and two tax dependent children, he would file a separate application)

2. The family income is:

Jane's Gross Monthly Income	$ 2,494 ($$14.50 \times 40 \times 4.3$)
	+ $500 alimony
	$2,994

Anna and Blaine's Gross Monthly Income (same as mom)
	$2,994

Carl's Gross Monthly Income	$ 3,750 ($$45,000 / 12$)
	- $500 alimony
	$3,250

Note: alimony income is counted for Jane and deducted for Carl, because the decree it is from was filed prior to January 1, 2019. If the decree had been filed after January 1, 2019, the alimony would not count as income for Jane and would not be a deduction for Carl.

3. For which program(s) do the members of this family qualify?

Jane: $2,994 – for household of 1 she is above Medicaid eligibility ($1,800), but as she already has insurance through her employer she can simply indicate that she does not need health coverage

Anna and Blain: $2,994 – for a household of 3, is within the limits for FAMIS Plus ($3,287)

Carl: $3,250 – for a household of 3 is within the income guidelines for eligibility for premium tax credits and cost-sharing subsidies in Virginia's Insurance Marketplace. If he lives in Virginia, he would also be eligible for Plan First.

4. What difference would it make if the divorce decree had been filed March 15, 2019?

Jane's and the kids' income would drop to $2,494 because alimony would not be counted. She still makes too much for Medicaid Expansion. The kids would still be eligible for FAMIS Plus. Carl's income would rise to $3,750 since the alimony would no longer be deducted from his income. He would still be Marketplace-eligible.

Case #3: THE JOHNSON FAMILY

Ned and Wanda Johnson have 3 children - John (1), Marley (8), and Sarah (16). Ned works at a factory where he is paid $975 every 2 weeks. Wanda Johnson works at a department store where she is paid $300 per week. Sarah works part-time after school at the local drug store; she is paid $75 per week. The family currently has no insurance and comes to you for help applying for state-sponsored coverage. The Johnsons are all US Citizens. They file taxes jointly and claim their children as dependents.

- 1. What is the household size in this example?

- 2. What coverage options or programs are available for each person in the example?

- 3. What if Mrs. Johnson was currently pregnant, would she be eligible for a program?

Case #3: JOHNSON FAMILY ANSWERS – Family with working child

1. Household size

5 for everyone in the family

2. Coverage Options for the family –

Ned Johnson's Gross Monthly Income	$2,096.25 ($975 x 2.15 for bi-weekly income)
Wanda Johnson's Gross Monthly Income	$1,290 ($300 x 4.3 for weekly income)
The Johnson's Countable Income	$3,386.25

Sarah's income is not counted since she does not meet the annual threshold for dependents for filing taxes. The family's total countable income is under the 2025 FAMIS Plus limit for a family of 5 ($4,644). Therefore, the children in the family are eligible for FAMIS Plus. The parents are under the guideline for the Medicaid Expansion ($4,330), so they would be eligible for state coverage too!

3. If Mrs. Johnson was pregnant, you would look at financial eligibility for Medicaid for Pregnant Women...

The family income figure would be the same as above: $3,386.25. The family size for Mrs. Johnson's eligibility would, however, be a family of 6 and therefore, Mrs. Johnson would be financially eligible for Medicaid for Pregnant Women ($5,322 for a family of 6).*

Note: once the baby is born, the family would report the change in family size to their local DSS. At that time, the entire family's eligibility for coverage would be redetermined. If no income changes had occurred, the children would continue to be eligible for FAMIS Plus, as would the new baby. Since the family size has increased for everyone, mom and dad would still be eligible for Medicaid Expansion for Adults.*

Case #4: THE SMITH FAMILY

Stacy Smith is a 17 year old, pregnant teen living with her parents and her boyfriend in Alexandria. Stacy's parents, Steven and Sarah Smith, both work full-time. Steven Smith is an Assistant Manager at a local restaurant earning $1,750 semi-monthly. Sarah Smith is a part-time instructional aide at a local elementary school earning $10,000 annually. Stacy has been working part-time in a book store earning $6.50 per hour. Stacy works 20 hours per week and is paid weekly. Stacy also has two younger siblings who live in the home with her: Seth (7) and Samantha (11). Stacy and her siblings are all claimed as dependents on Steven and Sarah's taxes.

Stacy's boyfriend, Ryan Jones, works at a local restaurant 30 hours per week earning $8.00 per hour and gets paid every week. He files his own taxes and is not claimed as a dependent on anyone else's taxes.

Steven Smith's employer has decided to no longer provide health coverage, and the current insurance coverage will end at the end of the month. The school nurse at Mrs. Smith's school suggested she contact your project for more information on the Medicaid and FAMIS programs.

- 1. What is the household size for each member of the household?

- 2. What is the monthly income for each member of the household?

- 3. Does the family qualify for coverage? If yes, for which program?

- 4. A) Would anything change if Stacy was 21, living with her parents, and not claimed as a tax dependent?

B) What would happen if, after Stacy had her baby, she moved out of the home to live with her boyfriend? What programs would Stacy, Ryan and their baby qualify for?

C) Would there be any difference in eligibility if they lived in Stafford? Winchester?

Case #4: THE SMITH FAMILY ANSWERS – multi-generational household with pregnant teen

1. What is the household size for each member of the household?

Steven Smith – 5 (himself, his wife and his 3 children claimed as dependents)

Sarah Smith – 5 (herself, her husband and their 3 children claimed as dependents)

Seth Smith – 5 (himself, his two parents and his two siblings)

Samantha Smith – 5 (herself, her two parents and her two siblings)

Stacy Smith – 5 (herself, her parents, her 2 siblings) – her unborn baby would only count if she was not eligible for full benefit FAMIS or FAMIS Plus

Ryan Jones – 1 (himself – separate application)

2. What is the income for each member of the household?

Steven Smith's income is $1,700 twice per month ($$1,750 \times 2$) for a total of $3,500. Sarah Smith earns $10,000 annually or $833.33 per month ($$10,000/12$). Total family income is $4,333.33 per month.

Stacy's income is $559/month ($$6.50/\text{hr} \times 20 \text{ hrs} \times 4.3$). It is not included since she makes $6,708 annually, which is less than the threshold that requires a dependent to file taxes ($14,600 for 2024 taxes). The Ryan's monthly income is $1,032.

3. Does the family qualify for coverage? If yes, for which program?

Stacy, Seth and Samantha would all qualify for FAMIS Plus because their monthly income falls below the FAMIS Plus income limit ($4,644). Stacy's parents both make too much for Medicaid Expansion for Adults ($4,330 for family of 5), but would qualify for Plan First*. They may also qualify for premium tax credits and cost sharing subsidies in Virginia's Health Insurance Marketplace since Steven no longer is offered employer coverage.

Ryan would also qualify for MedEx since his income is below that limit ($1,800).

Plan First became an "Opt-In" program in December 2024. To be evaluated for the program, applicants now need to check the box on the Application, it is not done automatically any more.*

4. A) Would anything change if Stacy was 21, living with her parents, and not claimed as a tax dependent?

As 21-year old pregnant woman, she would be a single filer with a household of 2 with no dependents. Given the $559/month income ($$6.50/\text{hour} \times 20 \text{ hours} \times 4.3$), she would be eligible for Medicaid for Pregnant Women. The household size for her parents and siblings would drop to 4, with the kids now eligible for FAMIS ($5,493 for family of 4) and the parents still eligible for marketplace coverage or Plan First.

B) What would happen if after Stacy had her baby, she moved out of the home to live with her boyfriend?

If Stacy and Ryan were living together but not married, they would each have a household of 1 and they would have to decide who would claim the child as a dependent on their taxes. The baby would have a household of 3 since he/she is a dependent who is living with both parents who are not married and counting mom and dad's income would be eligible for FAMIS Plus ($$559 + $1,032 = $1,591$).

If Stacy claims the child, she would be a household of 2 and given the $559/month income would be eligible for LIFC if she lived in a Group II or III locality, but if she lived in a Group I locality, she would be eligible for MedEx. Ryan would be still be eligible for MedEx.

If Ryan claims the child, he would still be eligible for MedEx (his income of $1,032 as household of a 2 is less than the threshold of $2,433). Stacy, with her income of $559/month, would be eligible for LIFC if she lived in a LIFC Group III locality or MedEx if she lived in a LIFC Group I or II locality.

Case #5: THE GRANT/SHORT FAMILY

Bob Grant and Sue Short are unmarried and living together with their son Josh (age 5) and daughter Ellen (age 7). Bob works full-time as a hotel manager and makes $3,100 a month (paid monthly). Sue works part-time as a home health aide and makes $400 every two weeks. Bob, Sue, and the children are uninsured. Bob claims the children as his dependents and Sue files her taxes as a single-filer.

- 1. What is the household size for each member of the family?

- 2. What is the income for the family members?

- 3. What coverage options are available to these family members?

- 4. What would happen to income and household size if Bob and Sue got married? What if they decided to continue to file separately?

Case #5: THE GRANT/SHORT FAMILY ANSWERS – unmarried parents of two living together

1. What is the household size for each member of the family?

Bob – 3 (himself and his two children)

Sue – 1 (herself)

Josh – 4 (parents and sibling)

Ellen – 4 (parents and sibling)

2. What is the income for the family members?

Bob: $3,100 a month

Sue: $860 a month ($\400×2.15)

Josh: $3,960 a month (Bob's $3,100 + Sue's $860)

Ellen: $3,960 a month, same as Josh

3. What coverage options are available to these family members?

Bob is eligible to purchase private insurance through Virginia's Insurance Marketplace with premium assistance and subsidies. He would also be eligible for Plan First (<$4,553 for family of 3). Note: Plan First became an "Opt-In" program in December of 2024, so to actually apply for the program he would need to indicate on the Application that he wanted to be evaluated for it. The children would be eligible for FAMIS (under the household of 4 income limit of $5,493). Sue would be eligible for Medicaid Expansion for Adults (under the limit of $1,800).

4. What would happen to income and household size if Bob and Sue got married? What if they decided to continue to file separately?

Bob, Sue, Josh and Ellen would all have a household size of 4 and their family's gross monthly income would be $3,960. The kids would still be eligible for FAMIS.

Even if Bob and Sue decided to continue filing separately, for the purposes of Medicaid eligibility, married couples are always considered part of the same household even if they do not file taxes jointly. Bob and Sue would be eligible for Plan First (<$5,493) (see not about Plan First in #3 above).

Bob and Sue would not, however, be eligible for any help with purchasing coverage in Virginia's Insurance Marketplace even though their income would be within the limits. This is because in order to be eligible for Tax Credits and Subsidies on the Marketplace, spouses must file joint tax returns.

Case #6: THE JONES FAMILY

Mae Jones is 63 years old and taking care of her grandchildren. She legally adopted her grandson, Jack Jones, who is 16 years old, after Jack's father passed away. Mae is also taking care of her three granddaughters, Kristen, Danielle and Katie Clark since her daughter can no longer take care of the girls. Kristen is 8, Danielle is 6 and Katie is 4.

Mae receives Social Security benefits of $1,424 per month and no additional income. Jack receives Social Security Survivor's benefits in the amount of $267 per month. All of the children were born in Virginia and are U.S. citizens. Mae is claiming her adopted son Jack as a dependent on her taxes, but not her three granddaughters, who are not being claimed on anyone's taxes.

All children are uninsured and the school nurse sent a note home with Jack indicating he may need glasses. The school nurse included a state-sponsored health insurance flyer in her referral packet. Mae has just arrived in your office and is worried about the cost of an eye exam and eyeglasses. How would you help her?

- 1. What is the household size for each member of the family?

- 2. What is the monthly income for each member of the family?

- 3. Would each of the children qualify financially for one of the FAMIS programs? If so, which one?

- 4. Should they all apply on the same application?

- 5. What would happen to their coverage if Mae decided to claim the 3 girls as dependents?

Case #6: THE JONES FAMILY ANSWERS

1. What is the household size for each member of the family?

Mae Jones – 2 – as the tax filer, her household is made up of herself and her adopted grandson Jack Jones – 2 – he is a tax dependent who is claimed by a tax filer and therefore his household is the same as the filer claiming him

Kristen, Danielle and Katie Clark – 3 – household for all three is determined using the non-filer rules – and includes the person, any siblings (2) and parents (none) living in the home

2. What is the monthly income for each member of the family?

Mae: $1,424 – Jack’s Survivor benefits are not included because he is living with at least one parent (adopted) and he has no other income that would exceed the annual tax filing threshold for dependents

Jack: $1,424 – his parent’s (adopted) income is included but not his social security survivor’s benefits

Kristen, Danielle and Katie: have no monthly income

3. Would each of the children qualify financially for one of the FAMIS programs? If so, which one? Would Mae qualify for anything?

Jack, Kristen, Danielle, and Katie would be eligible for FAMIS Plus.

Mae would be eligible for Medicaid Expansion for Adults. She has a household size of 2 and makes $1,424. This is less than the income limit for this coverage which is $2,433. She is age eligible until she turns 65.

4. Should they all apply on the same application?

Yes

6. What would happen to their coverage if Mae decided to claim the 3 granddaughters as dependents?

Mae’s and Jack’s family sizes would rise to 5. The girls, however, would still each have a household of 3. They would now fall under the exception to the tax filer household rules – they are not the biological, adopted, or stepchildren of Mae, so you would still only count their siblings in their households. That being said, all the children would still be FAMIS Plus eligible and Mae would still be eligible for MedEx.
